IN RE: HEALTHPLUS SURGERY CENTER LITIGATION

SUPERIOR COURT OF NEW JERSEY J.S.C.

LAW DIVISION: BERGEN COUNTY

CASE NO.
MASTER DOCKET NO.: BER-L-

CIVIL ACTION

INITIAL CASE MANAGEMENT ORDER

All prior orders remain in full force and effect except as modified by this Order

THIS MATTER having been assigned to the Bergen County Vicinage pursuant to the Supreme Court's Order of December 2, 2019; this Court, on its own motion, hereby enters the following order,

IT IS on this 2nd day of January 2020,

ORDERED:

1. Preamble. The court asserts its expectation that professionalism, courtesy, and civility will endure throughout these proceedings. The Manual for Complex Litigation, Fourth, §10.21 states the spirit in this language:

Judicial involvement in managing complex litigation does not lessen the duties and responsibilities of the attorneys. To the contrary, complex litigation places greater demands on counsel in their dual roles as advocates and officers of the court. The complexity of legal and factual issues makes judges especially dependent on the assistance of counsel.

The certification requirements of R. 1:4-8(a) reflect some of the attorneys' obligations as officers of the court. Because of the high level of competence and experience that attorneys ordinarily bring to this type of litigation, the court is confident that its objective will be achieved without judicial intervention.

2. Effect of this Order

- a. Applicability. This order applies to all HealthPlus Surgery Center Litigation actions centralized for coordinated management in the Bergen County Vicinage pursuant to the Supreme Court Order of December 2, 2019 and all those hereinafter filed or transferred to the Bergen County Vicinage. The actions are centralized to avoid duplication and to prevent conflicts. These actions are not consolidated. Each action will retain its own docket number. A master docket number for administrative purposes shall be assigned to this action by the Civil Division Manager.
- b. Transfer of Files. All court files including pleadings, motions, and other papers shall be transferred from the original vicinage of venue to the Civil Division Manager of the Bergen County Vicinage as soon as practicable.
- c. Stay. All motions pending in any vicinage are stayed until further order of the court. The filing of motions are stayed until further order of the court.

3. Initial Conference. All parties (in person or by counsel) shall appear for a conference with the undersigned on January 29, 2020 at 10 o'clock AM, in Courtroom 359, Rotunda Building, Bergen County Justice Center, 10 Main St., Hackensack, New Jersey, 07601.

a. Attendance. To minimize costs and facilitate a manageable conference, parties are encouraged, but not required, to attend the conference, and parties with similar interests are expected to agree to the extent practicable on a single attorney to act on their joint behalf at the conference. A party will not, by designating an attorney to represent its interests at the conference, be precluded from other representation during the litigation. Attendance at the conference will not waive objections to jurisdiction, venue, or service.

b. Service List. This Order is being e-mailed to Alan Roth, Esq. and Richard Williams, Esq. Mr. Roth and Mr. Williams are requested to forward a copy of this order to all other attorneys who should be notified of the conference. A service list will be prepared after the conference.

c. Other Participants. Persons who are not named as parties in this litigation but may later be joined as parties or are parties in the related litigation pending in other federal and state courts are invited to attend in person or by counsel.

d. Agenda. Counsel are encouraged to advise the court at least seven (7) days prior to the initial case management conference of any items that should be added to the agenda.

- b. Initial Conference of Counsel. Before the conference, counsel shall meet and confer—in person, by telephone conference, or by video conference—and seek consensus to the extent possible with respect to the items on the agenda, including a proposed discovery plan and a suggested schedule for joinder of parties, amendments to pleadings, motions, and trials.
- c. Statements. Counsel will submit to the court no later than seven days prior to the conference, a brief written statement, no more than 15 pages, containing the following information, to the extent known:

 - v. proposed schedule of necessary events prior to trial
 - vi. list of any pending or anticipated motions
 - vii. current status of request for jury trial
 - viii. any other issues that need to be addressed by the court.

These statements will not be filed with the clerk, will not be binding, will not waive claims or defenses, and may not be offered into evidence against a party in later proceedings.

d. Counsel shall further meet and confer and submit a joint statement to the court setting forth the status of the litigation. This statement shall be submitted by January 17, 2020, and shall include, but is not limited to, the following:

information relevant to disputed facts alleged with particularity in the pleadings, identifying the subjects of the information.

- iv. Provide to all other parties the opportunity for inspection and copying any insurance agreement under which any person carrying on an insurance business may be liable to satisfy part or all of a judgment which may be entered in the action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment.

b. Discovery of Digital Information Including Computer-Based Information and Electronically Stored Information.

- i. Duty to Investigate and Disclose. Prior to the conference, counsel shall review with the client the client's information management systems, including computer-based and other digital systems, in order to understand how information is stored and how it can be retrieved. To determine what must be disclosed pursuant to Paragraph 5(a) of this Order, counsel shall further review with the client the client's information files, including currently maintained computer files as well as historical, archival, back-up, and legacy computer files, whether in current or historic media or formats, such as digital evidence that may be used to support claims or defenses. Counsel shall also identify a person or persons with knowledge about the client's information management systems, including computer-based and other digital systems, with the ability to facilitate, through counsel, reasonably anticipated discovery.

ii. Duty to Notify. A party seeking discovery of computer-based or other digital information shall notify the opposing party as soon as possible, but no later than the conference, and identify as clearly as possible the categories of information that may be sought. A party may supplement its request for computer-based and other digital information as soon as possible upon receipt of new information relating to digital evidence.

iii. Duty to Meet and Confer. During the meetings required by Paragraph 4(b) of this order, the parties shall confer and attempt to agree on computer-based and other digital discovery matters, including the following:

1. Preservation and production of digital information; procedures to deal with inadvertent production of privileged information; whether restoration of deleted digital information may be necessary; whether backup or historic legacy data is within the scope of discovery; and the media, format, and procedures for producing digital information.

2. Who will bear the costs of preservation, production, and restoration (if necessary) of any digital discovery.

c. Preservation of Records. The parties should attempt to reach agreement on all issues regarding the preservation of documents, data, and tangible things if not already done. These issues include, but are not necessarily limited to:

- i. The extent of the preservation obligation, identifying the types of material to be preserved, subject matter, time frame, authors and addressees, and key words to be used in identifying responsive materials;
- ii. The identification of persons responsible for carrying out preservation obligations on behalf of each party;
- iii. The form and method of providing notice of the duty to preserve to persons identified as custodians of documents, data, and tangible things;
- iv. Mechanisms for monitoring, certifying, or auditing custodian compliance with preservation obligations;
- v. Whether preservation will require suspending or modifying any routine business processes or procedures, with special attention to document management programs and the recycling of computer data storage media;

- vi. The methods to preserve any volatile but potentially discoverable material, such as voicemail, active data in databases, or electronic messages;
- vii. The anticipated costs of preservation and ways to reduce or share these costs; and
- viii. A mechanism to review and modify the preservation obligation as discovery proceeds, eliminating or adding particular categories of documents, data, and tangible things.

d. Duty to Preserve

- i. Until the parties reach agreement on a preservation plan, all parties and their counsel are reminded of their duty to preserve evidence that may be relevant to this action. The duty extends to documents, data, and tangible things in the possession, custody and control of the parties to this action, and any employees, agents, contractors, carriers, bailees, or other nonparties who possess materials reasonably anticipated to be subject to discovery in this action. Counsel are obliged to exercise reasonable efforts to identify and notify such nonparties, including employees of corporate or institutional parties.
- ii. “Documents, data, and tangible things” is to be interpreted broadly to include writings; records; files; correspondence; reports; memoranda; calendars; diaries; minutes; electronic messages; voicemail; e-mail; telephone message records or logs; computer and network activity logs; hard drives; backup data; removable computer storage media such as tapes, disks, and cards; printouts; document image files; webpages; databases; spreadsheets; software; books; ledgers; journals; orders; invoices; bills; vouchers; checks; statements; worksheets; summaries; compilations; computations; charts; diagrams; graphic presentations; drawings; films; digital or chemical process photographs; video; phonographic, tape, or digital recordings or transcripts thereof; drafts; jottings; and notes. Information that serves to identify, locate, or link such material, such as file inventories, file folders, indices, and metadata, is also included in this definition.

- iii. "Preservation" is to be interpreted broadly to accomplish the goal of maintaining the integrity of all documents, data, and tangible things reasonably anticipated to be subject to discovery under R. 4:10 to R. 4:19 in this action. Preservation includes taking reasonable steps to prevent the partial or full destruction, alteration, testing, deletion, shredding, incineration, wiping, relocation, migration, theft, or mutation of such material, as well as negligent or intentional handling that would make material incomplete or inaccessible.

- iv. If the business practices of any party involve the routine destruction, recycling, relocation, or mutation of such materials, the party must, to the extent practicable for the pendency of this order, either:
 1. Halt such business processes;
 2. Sequester or remove such material from the business process; or
 3. Arrange for the preservation of complete and accurate duplicates or copies of such material, suitable for later discovery if requested.
- v. Before the conference to develop a preservation plan, a party may apply to the court for further instructions regarding the duty to preserve specific categories of documents, data, or tangible things. A party may seek permission to resume routine business processes relating to the storage or destruction of specific categories of documents, data, or tangible things, upon a showing of undue cost, burden, or overbreadth.
- vi. If, after conferring to develop a preservation plan, counsel do not reach agreement, the parties are to submit to the court within three days of the conference a statement of the unresolved issues together with each party's proposal for their resolution of the issues. In framing an order regarding the preservation of documents, data, and tangible things, the court will consider those statements as well as any statements made at the conference.

- e. Protective Order. The parties should attempt to reach agreement on all issues regarding the necessity for, scope of, and terms of a protective order covering confidential, privileged, or protected information, if not already done so.
 - f. Document Depositories. The parties should attempt to reach agreement on all issues regarding the establishment and operation of a document depository program, if not already done so.
6. Later Filed Actions. This Order shall apply to related actions later filed in or transferred to this court.
7. Applications for Lead and Liaison Counsel Appointments. This court will appoint plaintiffs' lead counsel and/or a plaintiffs' steering committee, as well as plaintiffs' liaison counsel. Applications for these positions must be filed with the court no later than seven days prior to the conference. The court will only consider attorneys who have filed a civil action in this litigation. The main criteria for these appointments are (1) willingness and ability to commit to a time consuming process; (2) ability to work cooperatively with others; (3) professional experience in this type of litigation and (4) access to sufficient resources to advance the litigation in a timely manner. Applications should also set forth attorney fee proposals, rates, and percentages that applicants expect to seek if the litigation succeeds in creating a common fund.

All orders, notices, and other pertinent documents filed with the Court common to the entire litigation shall be available on the Judiciary Web Page for Multicounty Litigation Center, which may be accessed at www.judiciary.state.nj.us/mass-tort/index.htm.
